SECTION 1 PART 1: THE COMMON GRADING STRUCTURE

2. The national agreements covering craftsmen whose core skills are electrical, mechanical and plumbing and associated semi – skilled staff provide for a common pay and grading structure. This comprises three grades:

Maintenance Technician
Maintenance Craftsmen
Maintenance Assistant

The structure is designed to promote flexibility and versatility in working arrangements and to ensure an in-house ability to maintain technologically advanced systems. It is also designed to promote co-operation between staff and their representatives and management:

- a. in reducing overtime;
- b. in the application of modern management techniques within the Service, including job evaluation and work study;
- c. in promoting the efficiency of maintenance departments through the application and observance of nationally agreed specifications.

3. PRINCIPLES OF GRADING

- 3.1 The following principles shall be observed by employing authorities for the grading of posts in the common grading structure:

3.1.1 there must be an established need for the post;

3.1.2 the post must be graded in accordance with the specifications and definitions laid down in Appendix 1;

3.1.3 the employing authority must be satisfied that, in addition to fulfilling the specified qualification requirements, the person appointed to the post is fully competent to undertake the full range of work required of the grade.

3.1.4 It is the responsibility of employing authorities to keep gradings under review and to ensure that they are consistently and fairly applied not only within individual authorities, but throughout the Service, by ensuring that staff are graded in accordance with the agreed grading specifications and provided with work appropriate to their skills.

4. Enabling Provision on Grading of Posts

4.1 The Management Advisory Panel recognises the need for staff to be appropriately graded to reflect the work they do. Many posts will fit into the grading definitions set out in Appendix 1. It is acknowledged, however, that in some cases these definitions may not adequately provide for the current working practices, technical advances, multi –skilling and flexible working required of maintenance or building craft grades. In such cases the Management Advisory Panel believes that the definitions should be amenable to variation and/or extension at local level in response to the requirement of particular posts. Any staff re-graded under this agreement shall remain on national conditions of service.

4.2 It will be for individual employers, in negotiation with local staff representatives, to determine variations to the existing grading criteria.

Paragraphs 18-29 unallocated

Section 4 (Cont)
Paras 105 – 106

105.2.1 Payments shall be based on the principle that entitlement is that which would be due if the whole of an employee's annual leave is taken at one time. What falls to be paid in these circumstances shall constitute the entitlement to such payment for that leave year however the leave is taken provided that pattern of regular overtime working was performed.

105.2.2 If an employee is entitled to 3 weeks and 3 days annual leave and works regular overtime on Tuesdays and Sundays, he would be entitled to payment for regular overtime for 4 Tuesdays and 3 Sundays. He would only be entitled to this if those days fell within his leave period when taken and only to the allowable limit. Thus, if he takes 2 Tuesdays as single days of annual leave and separately a 2 week period containing 2 Tuesdays, any subsequent annual leave taken which included a Tuesday would not attract regular overtime payment. Similarly with the Sundays three would be the limit.

105.2.3 Should the pattern of regular overtime working change, the same procedure should be applied to whatever leave was remaining and the new regular overtime pattern of work and so on.

105.2.4 "Regular Overtime" means regular overtime within the definition given in paragraph 105.1: it does not mean or include casual overtime.

106. PROVISION OF FREE MEAL DURING OVERTIME PERIOD

Where an employee is told after reporting for duty that he will be required to work overtime during which it would be reasonable to require a meal and he does in fact purchase a meal he shall be entitled to reimbursement of the cost up to limits corresponding to meal charges agreed by the Ancillary Staffs Whitley Council.

107. SHIFT ALLOWANCES

107.1 Rotary Shift Allowance

107.1.1 Where an employee is required to work in turn on shifts which cover 24 hours a day he shall be regarded as on a rotary shift and be entitled to an additional payment of 50 pence per hour.

107.1.2 An employee shall not be regarded as on rotary shift if he is employed only on day shifts or on night shifts, but if he is substituting for an employee on rotary shift he shall receive the additional payment for the hours so worked.

107.2 Alternative Shift Allowance

107.2.1 Where an employee is required to work two shifts within the standard working week, one of which finishes earlier than 7pm and the second of which (not being a split shift qualifying for split duty payment) finishes at or after 7pm he shall be regarded as on alternating shifts and shall be entitled to an additional payment at the rate of 30 pence per hour.

107.2.2 The period of assessment shall be:

- i. where there is a regular rota cycle: the whole period of the cycle;
- ii. where there is no regular cycle: each period of 4 weeks.

107.2.3 In each period of assessment as defined above and provided the shifts worked change either daily or at longer intervals not exceeding 4 weeks, an employee shall qualify for the additional payment for the number of eligible shifts.

110. ON-CALL DUTY

There is a responsibility on staff to provide a 24 hour, 7 day, cover as and when necessary and it is for employing authorities to reach a local agreement for on-call duty with the staff concerned and, if appropriate, writing into contracts of service the obligation to conform with the local agreement.

110.1 Employees as defined above required to be available on an on-call basis away from the normal place of employment shall receive payment as follows:-

- 110.1.1 During normal weekdays and at weekends (subject to paragraph 110.1.2 below) for each hour of the on-call period 64p per hour
Minimum payment£6.40 per occasion

- 110.1.2 During Bank or Public Holidays, for each hour of the on-call period
.....£1.28 per hour
minimum payment£12.80 per occasion

- 110.1.3 Work performed at the request of Management during an on call period shall be paid for in addition at the following hourly rates:

Monday to Saturday inclusive: Plain time plus one half
Sunday, Bank or Public Holidays: Double plain time.

These rates shall apply for the period of work at the place of work during the on –call period. Where such work is carried out at a time which is more than 3 hours before the normal commencing time of the next normal day shift, the rate payable for all hours worked after midnight and up to the normal commencing time of the next normal day shift shall be double plain time. (“Next normal day shift” means in the case an alternating shift worker the earlier of the two shifts and in the case of a rotary shift worker the morning shift, ie the one commencing at 6am or 7am thereabouts.)

110.1.4 Staff called out to work during an on-call period shall receive payment as for two hours at the appropriate rate, if in the aggregate over the occasion of the on –call duty period, the work performed comes to less than 2 hours

110.2 Where an employee is required to undertake on-call duty on a Bank or Public Holiday during one or more “occasions” he shall be entitled to take one working day off with pay in lieu. An employee will not be entitled to more than one day off in lieu for the same day, so that where he is recalled to work while on-call, the time off in lieu provisions of paragraph 150.1 will not apply in addition.

110.3 An “occasion” is defined as the period from the time of finishing work on one day (including a short working day) to the time of commencing work on the next day. For this purpose notional starting and finishing times should be assumed for Rest and, where applicable, Off-Duty periods, and should be at the times at which it is considered work would have started and finished if these had been working days. On each such day the period between the notional starting and finishing times is an additional “occasion”.

EXAMPLES

- a. An employee who works from 8am to 5pm Monday to Friday

The following are occasions:-

5pm Monday to 8am Tuesday)
5pm Tuesday to 8am Wednesday)
5pm Wednesday to 8am Thursday)

8am Saturday to 5pm Saturday)
5pm Saturday to 8am Sunday)

113.2 All staff (except rotary and alternating shift workers) who work hours outside the standard working week between the hours of 8pm and 6am on any day shall be paid in accordance with the provision of paragraph 104 plus one fifth plain time for all such hours worked.
